

List of James Bond villains

jamesbond.wikia.com/wiki/List_of_James_Bond_villains

The James Bond novels and films are notable for their memorably despicable villains and henchmen. From Le Chiffre's encounter with Bond in the original Casino Royale novel in 1953 to Raoul Silva's scheme to exact revenge on M in the 2012 film, Skyfall, Bond's foes have been one of the most important reasons for the book and film series' continued popularity. Listed here are the franchise's primary villains.

Contents

[\[show\]](#)

Novel villains by author

Ian Fleming

Novel	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
Casino Royale	Le Chiffre	Pay off his debts to his SMERSH masters by winning the money at Casino Royale's baccarat table.	Bond beat Le Chiffre at the baccarat tournament.	Shot between the eyes by a SMERSH hitman.
Live and Let Die	Mr. Big	Smuggle and sell ancient gold coins in order to finance SMERSH operations.	Bond destroys the coins and kills Big.	Eaten by sharks and barracuda after he falls into the water when Bond blows up his boat.
Moonraker	Sir Hugo Drax	Destroy London with a nuclear missile, the eponymous Moonraker.	Bond altered the rocket's target coordinates.	Rocket crashed into the water directly in the path of Drax's submarine. Drax and his men all perished in the blast.
Diamonds Are Forever	Jack Spang <hr/> Seraffimo Spang	Smuggle a large cache of diamonds worth millions of dollars from Africa to America to fund organisation.	Smuggling operation dismantled when all operatives are assassinated.	Killed when his helicopter is shot down by Bond. <hr/> Shot in the leg by Bond while he conducts his train, causing him to accidentally derail the train.
From Russia, with Love	Rosa Klebb <hr/> General Grubozaboyschikov	Kill James Bond in a humiliating sex scandal, kill MI6 cryptanalysts with boobytrapped cypher machine.	Grant failed to kill Bond, so did Klebb.	Captured by the Deuxieme Bureau . Later died. <hr/> Unknown

Dr. No	Dr. Julius No	Disrupt U.S. guided missile tests.	Dr. No killed, project dismantled.	Buried under a pile of Guano by Bond.
Goldfinger	Auric Goldfinger	Steal the U.S. gold supply from Fort Knox to finance SMERSH.	U.S. authorities alerted by Bond.	Strangled to death by Bond after hijacking an airplane.
"From a View to a Kill" (short story)	GRU agents	Kill dispatch-riders of SHAPE to steal information from the British Secret Service.	Riders killed but information recovered by Bond.	Shot by Bond and Mary Ann Russell.
"For Your Eyes Only" (short story)	Colonel von Hammerstein	Acquire the Havelock Estate in Jamaica to use as an HQ for a drug running operation.	Obtains the estate but both are later killed.	Killed by Judy Havelock with arrow
	Hector Gonzales			Shot by Bond in firefight
"Risico" (short story)	Aristotle Kristatos	Smuggle drugs, aid Soviet missile development, and mislead Bond into killing rival.	Bond discovered the truth.	Shot by Bond while driving his car; car drove off into fog.
"The Hildebrand Rarity" (short story)	Milton Krest	Catch the Hildebrand Rarity by any means necessary.	Succeeds, but dies.	Choked to death on the rare fish; implied to have been murdered by his battered wife.
Thunderball	Emilio Largo	Blackmail the western world with two stolen atomic bombs.	Bond discovered the location of the bombs.	Shot with a speargun in the neck by his mistress, Domino.
	Ernst Stavro Blofeld			Survived.
The Spy Who Loved Me	Mr. Sanguinetti	Have his motel burnt down and have Vivienne Michel assassinated in order to claim property and life insurances.	His assassins failed to kill Vivienne and set the place on fire.	Arrested by the U.S. Border Patrol.
	Sol "Horror" Horowitz and "Sluggsy" Morant	Assassinate Vivienne Michel under orders of Mr. Sanguinetti and torch the motel Sanguinetti owned.	They fail to kill Vivienne and are killed themselves.	Both are shot to death by Bond.
On Her Majesty's Secret Service	Ernst Stavro Blofeld	Develop deadly virus to destroy British livestock and cereals.	Virus and HQ destroyed by Bond and MI6 agents.	Survived.
You Only Live Twice	Ernst Stavro Blofeld	Creates a "garden of death" and entices depressed Japanese to suicide in exchange for money to refinance his organisation.	Lair destroyed and henchmen killed by Bond.	Strangled to death by Bond.
The Man with the Golden Gun	Francisco (Paco) "Pistols" Scaramanga	Expand his international crime organisation to the Caribbean and organise smuggling operations to finance.	His allies are killed in the explosion of his mansion and he is killed by Bond.	Shot by Bond, ultimately through the heart.

"Octopussy" (short story)	Major Dexter Smythe	Live off looted Nazi gold.	Is discovered by Bond and faced with the choice between prosecution and suicide.	Accidentally stung by scorpion fish, then partially eaten by an octopus.
"The Property of a Lady" (short story)	Maria Freudenstein and her Soviet contact	Receive secret payment for double agent services.	Succeeded.	Survived but her contact was deported.
"The Living Daylights" (short story)	Trigger, KGB assassin.	Assassinate defector.	Gun shot out of hand before she can kill the defector.	Wounded by Bond, but she survived and escaped.
"007 In New York" (short story)	KGB double-agent	Blackmail MI6 using a female Employee.	Employee tipped off by Bond.	Arrested by the CIA.

Kingsley Amis

Novel	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
Colonel Sun	Colonel Sun Liang-tan	Sabotage USSR summit conference, frame Great Britain.	Operatives killed, summit conference members alerted.	Stabbed in the back and again in the heart by Bond.

Christopher Wood

Novel	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
James Bond, The Spy Who Loved Me	Sigmund Stromberg	Use stolen submarines to provoke a nuclear war between the US and the Soviets and then rebuild humanity under the ocean.	Bond destroys his base and blows up the submarines.	Shot to death by Bond.
James Bond and Moonraker	Sir Hugo Drax	Fire a nerve agent from space to kill the entire population of earth and then create a new civilization in space.	Bond destroys his base, the Moonraker, and with it the globes containing the nerve agent.	Shot with a poison dart by Bond before being pushed out of an airlock and sucked into the vacuum of space.

John Gardner

Novel	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
Licence Renewed	Dr. Anton Murik	Hold nuclear plants hostage in exchange for the $50 billion to build a safe reactor.	Bond gave the abort order to henchmen.	Shot by Bond with Gyrojet pistol.
For Special Services	Nena Bismaquer (Blofeld)	Use Bond to take control of NORAD.	Nena's husband, Markus, breaks her hypnotic spell on Bond before the plan succeeds.	Crushed by own pythons.

Icebreaker	Count Konrad von Glöda (also known as "Aarne Tudeer")	Bring back Nazism by wiping out communists.	Bond defeats him with the aid of a Mossad agent and a member of the CIA.	Shot by Bond.
Role of Honour	Jay Autem Holy	Disarm U.S. and Soviet nuclear weaponry through a computerised scheme to create world peace.	Bond's "defection" to SPECTRE is actually a fake, and he ruins them.	Shot and killed by Rahani.
	Tamil Rahani (SPECTRE)	Disarm the U.S. nuclear weaponry to give the USSR advantage in Cold War.		Escapes.
Nobody Lives for Ever	Tamil Rahani (SPECTRE)	Have Bond assassinated by putting a large bounty on his head.	Bond kills him.	Blown up by bed bomb, courtesy of Bond.
No Deals, Mr. Bond	General Konstantin Nikolaevich Chernov (also known as "Blackfriar")	Kill all participants in defunct espionage operation.	Bond saves them.	Arrested.
Scorpius	Vladimir Scorpius (also known as "Father Valentine")	Conduct assassinations with a cult of suicide bombers; ultimately kill U.S. President and British Prime Minister.	Cult raided and disbanded; President and Prime Minister saved.	Bitten by water moccasins.
Win, Lose or Die	BAST — Bassam Baradj	Capture aircraft carrier with US, UK, and USSR leaders on board, hold them for ransom.	Bond overtook the ship.	Shot by Bond's ally.
Licence to Kill (novelisation)	Franz Sanchez	Smuggle drugs.	Bond destroys factory.	Set on fire by Bond.
Brokenclaw	"Brokenclaw" Lee Fu-Chu	Sell secret plans for underwater defense system to Red China. Crash world stock market via computerised scheme.	Chinese agents captured and impersonated by Bond and ally. Base blown to bits.	Shot by Bond with bow and arrow.
The Man from Barbarossa	General Yevgeny Yuskovich	Supply Iraq with nuclear weapons.
Death is Forever	Wolfgang Weisen	Assassinate all members of British-American CABAL. Destabilise Western Europe by blowing up train containing many world leaders.		Electrocuted.
Never Send Flowers	David Dragonpol	Assassinate Princess Diana and sons at Euro Disney.	Royal family preempted from arriving at Euro Disney.	Blown up by own bomb.

SeaFire	Sir Maxwell Tarn	Start oil spill fire during demonstration with U-boat.	Bond destroys submarine.	Burns to death when shot by Bond's flare.
GoldenEye adaption	Alec Trevelyan (006)	Ruin London's economy.	Base destroyed.	Crushed by falling debris.
COLD	General Brutus Clay	Replace government with puritan society.	Bond discovers plan and informs superiors to bomb base.	Shot by Bond from boat into water where he drowns.

Raymond Benson

Novel	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
"Blast from the Past" (short story)	Irma Bunt	Kill James Bond by shaving him with a razor soaked in Japanese fish poison and "accidentally" nicking him.	Bond is rescued by his girlfriend.	Shot by Bond.
Zero Minus Ten	Guy Thackeray	Destroy Hong Kong with nuclear bomb.	Location of bomb discovered, bomb neutralised.	Drowned by Bond.
Tomorrow Never Dies (Novelization)	Elliot Carver	Initiate a war between the United Kingdom and China by destroying Beijing in order to boost ratings.	Bond and Wai-Lin destroyed the bomb and Carver's base.	Bond activated a huge sea drill and shoved Carver into its path.
The Facts of Death	Konstantine Romanos	Instigate war between Greece and Turkey by firing nuclear missile into Turkey.	Killed by fellow Decada member Hera Volopoulos.	Killed by Hera.
	Hera Volopoulos	Release virus onto world, profit from treatment.	Stopped with assistance from Greek military.	Blown up, then drowned by Bond.
"Midsummer Night's Doom" (short story)	Anton Redenius (a likely reference to Doug Redenius of the Ian Fleming Foundation)	Sell Ministry of Defense secrets to Russian Mafia.	Identified as culprit. Microfilm retrieved by Bond.	Arrested.
High Time to Kill	Roland Marquis	Retrieve Skin 17 microdot from corpse on Kangchenjunga Mountain before Bond does. Sell to Russian Mafia.	Marquis gives Bond microdot in exchange for oxygen.	Is chased by Bond to mountain's peak. Dies of oxygen deprivation.
	Le Gérant, The Union	Retrieve microdot. Sell to Chinese government.		Survives.
The World Is Not Enough (Novelization)	Elektra King	Kill her father to take over his oil business and then destroy Istanbul to monopolize the oil market.	Renard's submarine was sunk by Bond.	Shot in the chest by Bond.

	Renard	Assassinate Elektra's father and then use a nuclear submarine to blow up Istanbul so that Elektra can take over the oil industry.	Bond killed him and sunk the submarine.	Impaled to death by his own plutonium rod, which was shot out of the reactor by Bond.
" Live at Five " (short story)	KGB (Natalia's coach)	Prevent Russian ice skater Natalia Lustokov's defection to the West.	Bond helps skater defect on live television.	KGB embarrassed in public.
Doubleshot	Domingo Espada	Overthrow Gibraltar's government with a series of assassinations. Frame James Bond by using lookalike as assassin. Install Espada as new governor.	Bond kills his double and takes his place, foiling the coup.	Shot through cheek by Bond. Chokes to death on own blood.
	Le Gérant, The Union			Survives.
Never Dream of Dying	Le Gérant, The Union	Make political statement about Western decadence by blowing up Cannes Film Festival with CL-20 explosives.	Bond discovers location of bomb, prevents remote detonation by phone call, informs authorities.	Blown up in escape helicopter by Bond's grenade launcher.
	Goro Yoshida			Survives.
The Man with the Red Tattoo	Goro Yoshida	Release deadly mutant strain of the West Nile virus via mosquitoes on Western world.	Virus destroyed.	Commits seppuku before he can be captured by Bond.
Die Another Day (Novelization)	Colonel Moon/Gustav Graves	Smuggle diamonds/Use the Icarus satellite to attack South Korea and then invade it.	Diamond smuggling operation dismantled by Bond/Icarus controls destroyed.	Escape vehicle drove over cliff/Parachuted opened by Bond next to torn fuselage, sucking him out into the plane engine.

Sebastian Faulks

Novel	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
Devil May Care	Dr. Julius Gorner	Import opium into England. Force Bond to pilot airliner into Soviet territory and bomb it, making it appear to be England's doing.	Bond gains control of airplane and crashes it into mountainside.	Shot by Bond. Jumps into river to escape, where he is torn apart by a boat's paddles.

Jeffery Deaver

Novel	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
Carte Blanche	Severan Hydt	Use a prototype Serbian weapon known as a "Cutter" to destroy a university in York, killing a cancer researcher who could ruin his employer, a pharmaceutical corporation.	Bond is able to warn British authorities about the Cutter before it detonates.	Shot by associate Niall Dunne.

Felicity Willing	Uses her position as head of the International Organisation Against Hunger to strategically distribute food aid across northern Africa, giving the government of the Sudan a pretext to go to war with the south.	Tricked into confessing to the scheme by Bond and Bheka Jordaan.	Extradited to a secret location after evidence is planted to suggest she was embezzling money from her Chinese backers.
Niall Dunne	Assists Hydt in his operation, then betrays and kill him while working for Felicity Willing.	Bond captures Felicity and kills Dunne.	Shot by Bond and Bheka Jordaan.

Young Bond series

Charlie Higson

Novel	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
SilverFin	Lord Randolph Hellebore	Create a new breed of superhuman soldiers, made from eels and humans. Conquer Europe with an army of his superhuman soldiers.	Bond and Hellebore's son destroy his lab.	Falls into lake and is eaten alive by savage eels.
Blood Fever	Count Ugo Carnifex	Revive the Millenaria, and steal priceless works of art.	His benefactor floods his palace for his failure.	Hit by his sea plane that was swept away by a wave of water.
Double or Die	Irina Sedova "Babushka"	Build Russia a new decoder device.	Bond destroys the machine.	Survives.
Hurricane Gold	Mrs. Glass	Sell important American documents to the Japanese.	Succeeds.	Imprisoned.
	El Huracán	Punish all guests on his island who break his rules.	Bond beats his obstacle course and escapes.	Spared by Bond.
By Royal Command	Dr. Perseus Friend	Help the Nazi cause by masterminding the assassination of King George, get revenge on James for destroying his work in Silverfin.	Bond saves the king, destroys Friend's operation and forces Sedova to kill Friend.	Shot through the face by Colonel Sedova.
	Irina Sedova "Babushka"	Find and kill Friend, only after King George is dead.		Shot by Bond, but survives due to bulletproof jacket.
"A Hard Man to Kill" (Short story)	Emil Lefebvre	Help General Caiboche escape.	Succeeds.
	Caiboche	Escape from custody.	Succeeds.	Survives.

Film villains by production

Eon Productions

Non-Eon films

Film	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
Dr. No	Dr. Julius No	Sabotage American missile tests by "toppling", using directed radio waves to interfere with a missile's guidance system and send it off-course.	Bond overloads the nuclear reactor in No's base causing the toppling device used to sabotage the tests to overload and disable	Lowered into his own reactor coolant and boiled to death.
From Russia with Love	Rosa Klebb	Use 007 to steal a Soviet decoding machine before killing him in a humiliating sex scandal as revenge for Dr. No's death. Sell the decoder back to the Russians.	Bond acquires the device for MI6, kills their assassin 'Red Grant', and survives Klebb's attempt to kill him and steal the decoder.	Shot in the chest by Tatiana Romanova .
	Ernst Stavro Blofeld			Survives (no contact between him and Bond).
Goldfinger	Auric Goldfinger	Detonate an atomic bomb in Fort Knox , irradiating the bullion stored there to make it worthless, thereby increasing the value of his own gold, and causing a financial meltdown in the Western world.	Bond seduces Pussy Galore , who changes sides and contacts the CIA , and they help her replace the Delta-Nine canisters with dummies; an American technician disables the bomb before it can detonate.	Sucked out of a depressurising plane through a shattered window.
Thunderball	Emilio Largo	Use stolen nuclear warheads to extort money from NATO.	Before the ransom is paid, Bond and the US Coast Guard recover one of the warheads from Largo's men; the other is sabotaged by Dr. Ladislav Kutze after he changes sides - is presumed destroyed with the Disco Volante after it crashes into the rocks and explodes.	Shot with a harpoon from a speargun fired by his mistress Domino
	Ernst Stavro Blofeld
You Only Live Twice	Ernst Stavro Blofeld	Capture Soviet and United States spacecraft from orbit in order to provoke war between the superpowers on behalf of an undisclosed Asian country.	Bond uses a self-destruct button in Blofeld's lair to destroy the "Bird-1" spacecraft used to capture manned space capsules from orbit.	Survives.
On Her Majesty's Secret Service	Ernst Stavro Blofeld	Extort the world with a biological weapon that renders crops and livestock infertile.	Bond, with the help of Marc Ange Draco, destroys the laboratory where the viruses are being developed before they can be released.	Survives. Assassinates Tracy di Vincenzo , Bond's newly married wife on their honeymoon.

Diamonds Are Forever	Ernst Stavro Blofeld	Use a diamond smuggling ring and the resources of billionaire Willard Whyte to build a laser-equipped space satellite. Extort money from the superpowers with nuclear supremacy going to the highest bidder.	Bond smashes Blofeld's mini-sub multiple times like a wrecking ball against the control room of his lair, disabling the satellite before dropping the submarine into the ocean.	Presumed dead.
Live and Let Die	Dr. Kananga/Mr. Big	Distribute world's largest cache of heroin into the United States, free of charge, in order to drive all the other drug cartels out of business. This will increase the number of addicts, and give Kananga a monopoly on the heroin market.	Quarrel Jr. destroys his poppy fields with a series of explosives.	Inflates and explodes after Bond forces a compressed-gas capsule down his throat.
The Man with the Golden Gun	Francisco Scaramanga	Acquire the Solex Agitator, a vital component for solar power plants, and sell it to the highest bidder; kill Bond, the one man he believes to be his equal.	Bond retrieves the Agitator for MI6.	Shot in the chest by Bond in the Hall of Mirrors when Bond pretends to be a statue of himself.
The Spy Who Loved Me	Karl Stromberg	Destroy the world by using hijacked British and Soviet submarines to fire nuclear missiles on New York and Moscow and provoking the superpowers into a nuclear war; rebuild civilisation under the sea once the war is over.	Bond redirects the missiles' coordinates so that the missile fired by each sub hits the other.	Shot four times by Bond.
Moonraker	Hugo Drax	Destroy all human life on Earth by releasing a nerve agent from a space station before rebuilding humanity with carefully chosen breeding stock in accordance with his vision.	The space station containing the poisonous globes was destroyed by U.S. Marines, and the three globes that were launched were destroyed by Bond and Holly Goodhead before they could release their payload.	Shot with poison dart gun and ejected into outer space by Bond.
For Your Eyes Only	Aristotle Kristatos	Acquire ATAC device, which would enable hijacking of British Polaris missiles, and selling it to the Soviet Union.	Bond throws the ATAC device off a cliff and destroys it.	Killed with a knife thrown by Milos Columbo.
	"Wheelchair villain" (implied to be Ernst Stavro Blofeld)	To kill Bond as revenge by remotely hijacking Bond's helicopter and making it crash.	Bond disconnects the remote control device used to control the helicopter.	Dies after Bond regains control of the helicopter and drops him down an industrial chimney.

Octopussy	General Orlov	Detonate a nuclear bomb on a U.S. Army base in West Germany, forcing NATO into withdrawing and allowing the Soviet Union to invade Germany.	Bond disarms the bomb.	While attempting to jump on Octopussy's circus train, he is shot by three border guards who mistakenly believe him to be defecting.
	Kamal Khan	To aid General Orlov in his plan; Orlov pays Khan with jewels stolen from the Moscow Kremlin .	Jewels confiscated by the KGB.	Dies when his plane crashes into a mountain.
A View to a Kill	Max Zorin	Trigger a massive earthquake that will destroy Silicon Valley in order to monopolise the microchip market.	His former henchman and lover, May Day, switches sides and removes a bomb necessary for Zorin's plan to succeed; she dies in the explosion, which causes no other damage.	Plummets from the top of the Golden Gate Bridge .
The Living Daylights	General Georgi Koskov	Misleads MI6 into believing the KGB under General Pushkin has reactivated an assassination program targeting spies. Bond will be assigned to eliminate Pushkin, who is investigating Koskov for embezzlement; with Pushkin dead, Koskov will be free to continue supporting the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan.	Bond and Pushkin fake the latter's assassination, fooling Koskov into believing he is free to act.	Arrested; implied to be executed by Pushkin's government offscreen.
	Brad Whitaker	Uses Koskov's embezzled KGB funds to buy opium from the Afghan mujahideen. He then plans to use the money to cover up the theft and the profits to continue funding the Soviet war in Afghanistan .	Bond steals the C-130 Hercules cargo plane carrying the opium and then crashes it, ruining the deal.	Bond activates a bomb disguised as a key chain, dropping a bust of Wellington on Whitaker, crushing him.
Licence to Kill	Franz Sanchez	Create an international drug cartel from South America to Asia, smuggling cocaine dissolved in petrol.	Bond destroys the drug processing factory, along with the first shipment of merchandise being transported in tanker lorries.	Bond forces Sanchez's petrol tanker off the road, and then sets the petrol-soaked Sanchez on fire as revenge for an attack on his friend Felix Leiter.

GoldenEye	Alec Trevelyan/Janus	Take control of the "GoldenEye" satellite weapons, detonating a nuclear device over London as revenge for a perceived betrayal during World War II. The electromagnetic pulse from the weapon will subsequently decimate London, covering up the electronic theft of millions of pounds from the Bank of England's computer systems.	Natalya Simonova destroys the GoldenEye by sabotaging the ground transmitter, sending the satellite off-course and causing it to burn up on re-entry.	Dropped by Bond from radar dish, breaking his spine; then crushed by the collapsing radar array.
Tomorrow Never Dies	Elliot Carver	Provoke a war between the United Kingdom and China by leading a British warship into Chinese territorial waters before sinking it. This is followed by a plan to fire a nuclear missile on Beijing to bring about a regime change in China. As a result, Carver will be permitted to expand his media franchise into China for the next century.	Bond compromises Carver's stealth boat technology, allowing the British Navy (and Chinese forces) to target and destroy both the boat and the missile still in the cargo bay.	Bond forces Carver into the path of a remote controlled drill the size of a jet engine.
The World Is Not Enough	Elektra King	Kill her father to seize his oil business, which she sees as rightfully hers, and later monopolise the oil market due to Renard's attack.	Succeeds in killing her father, but is killed by Bond before Renard's plan can be fulfilled.	Shot by Bond.
	Renard (Victor Zokas)	Destroy Istanbul by detonating a nuclear submarine in the Bosphorus, allowing Elektra to monopolise the oil market.	Bond prevents him from triggering a meltdown of the reactor core by flooding the submarine and then blowing it up before Renard can fulfill his plan.	Impaled by a plutonium rod shot out of the sub's core at extreme velocity by Bond.
Die Another Day	Gustav Graves (Colonel Moon)	Invade South Korea with the help of "Icarus", an orbital weapons platform that fires a concentrated burst of the sun's energy.	Icarus is rendered harmless when Bond destroys the control device.	Bond pulls the cord on his parachute, sucking him (and the control device) into a plane engine.
Casino Royale	Le Chiffre	Plans to make his clients, a guerrilla group, wealthy by shorting airline stocks and then destroying a prototype jetliner. Later attempts to regain his clients' lost money by playing and winning a Texas Hold 'em tournament.	Bond prevents the terrorist plot from being carried out by killing the bomber before he can destroy the jetliner. He then bankrupts Le Chiffre in an attempt to convince him to surrender to MI6 custody.	Shot in the head by Mr. White.

	Mr. White	Regain money lost by Le Chiffre and protect the integrity of his organisation.	Succeeds, but is captured by Bond.	Shot in the left knee and captured by Bond, but survives.
Quantum of Solace	Dominic Greene	Create a drought by damming aquifers in Bolivia and then staging a coup d'état and selling water supplies back to the new government at grossly inflated prices.	Bond intercepts Greene before he can carry out the coup.	Abandoned by Bond in the middle of the Atacama Desert with nothing but a can of diesel. Later found dead (offscreen) with two bullets in the back of his head and the oil inside his stomach.
	Mr. White	Escape from MI6 custody.		Succeeds. Remains at large until He Reappears in SPECTRE where is confronted by Bond. He reveals that he is dying of thallium poisoning and then he shoots himself in the head.
Skyfall	Raoul Silva (born Tiago Rodriguez)	Humiliate M in front of the government by causing a scandal that damages MI6 and forces her resignation, and then kill her as revenge for betraying him when he worked for the Secret Service.	Silva indirectly succeeds: M is mortally wounded when Silva's forces attack her, but Silva himself is killed before she dies.	Bond throws a hunting knife into his back.
Spectre	Ernst Stavro Blofeld (born Franz Oberhauser)	Use C's "Nine Eyes" program to subvert democracy and gain power over the world's surveillance network, also carrying a childhood vendetta against Bond.	Whilst making his escape, his helicopter is shot down over Westminster Bridge. He is left by Bond to be arrested by M.	Captured and detained by Her Majesty's Government.
	Max Denbigh	Install the nine Eyes program to help Blofeld who he had allied with to Subvert Democracy	The program is shutdown by Bond during it's last seconds	Falls out of MI6 quarters After a brutal fight with M
Film	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
Casino Royale — 1954 TV episode	Le Chiffre	Escape bankruptcy with baccarat game.	Loses to Bond.	Shot by Bond.

Casino Royale — 1967 film	Dr. Noah/Jimmy Bond	Use biological warfare to make all women beautiful; wipe out all men bigger than him to make him get the girls.	Poisoned by The Detainer with his own atomic pill.	Blown up by pill.
	Le Chiffre	Recover embezzled SMERSH funds in Baccarat game.	Loses game to Evelyn Tremble.	Shot by SMERSH agents.
Never Say Never Again	Maximillian Largo	Hold world powers to ransom with nuclear weapons.	Weapons retrieved by Bond.	Shot in the back with harpoon by Domino.
	Ernst Stavro Blofeld			Survives. No contact with Bond.

Video game villains

The following is a list of original main villains in James Bond computer and video games.

Game	Villain	Endgame	Outcome	Eventual fate
GoldenEye 007	Alec Trevelyan	Use Goldeneye to rob and destroy London.	Bond destroys Goldeneye's controls.	Falls to his death after Bond shoots him.
Tomorrow Never Dies	Elliot Carver	Fire a nuclear missile at Beijing, eliminating the current Chinese government in favour of politicians who will grant him exclusive broadcasting rights in China	Bond aborts the missile launch.	Shot and killed by Bond.
James Bond 007	General Golgov	Use a nuclear holocaust to emerge as the ruler of the world.	Bond destroys Golgov's robot with a bazooka.	Dies in the explosion.
The World is Not Enough	Elektra King	Kill her father and seize his oil business, as well as assist Renard in his scheme to destroy Istanbul in a nuclear explosion, thus allowing Elektra to use her pipeline to supply Istanbul with oil.	Succeeds in killing her father; however, Bond escapes captivity at her base of operations at Maiden's Tower and so is able to access the nuclear submarine.	Shot and killed by Bond.
	Renard	Overload the reactor of a nuclear submarine in order to generate a nuclear explosion to destroy Istanbul so as to increase the value of Elektra's own oil	Bond stops Renard from blowing up the nuclear submarine	Impaled by a plutonium rod shot out of the sub's core at high speed by Bond
007 Racing	Dr. Hammond Litte	Smuggle stolen NATO warheads to terrorist via his automobile line, later commit mass genocide using a deadly virus.	Smuggling operation dissolved by Bond, plane carrying virus destroyed.	Presumably killed when Bond blows up his plane.
Agent Under Fire	Adrian Malprave	Kidnap the World Trade Leaders, create the clones, kill the G8 and force the clones to give her control of the world	Bond destroys her cloning lab and kills the clones.	Dies when headquarters explodes.

Nightfire	Rafael Drake	Destroy NATO forces in a massive air strike from space.	Bond disables the missiles' targeting systems, sending them off course.	Shot with a laser by Bond.
Everything or Nothing	Nikolai Diavolo	Take over Russia and the world by using a metal eating nanobot army; get revenge on Bond for the death of his mentor Max Zorin.	Bond destroys the nanobots.	Falls into a missile silo after Bond shoots Diavolo's control tower with a rocket launcher.
GoldenEye: Rogue Agent	Auric Goldfinger	Use the OMEN virus to take over the world.	Goldeneye uses it against Goldfinger's forces.	Blown up by Goldeneye.
	Dr. Julius No			Electrocuted in his own reactor.
	Number 1	Manipulate Goldeneye into killing off his two liabilities, Dr. No and Goldfinger.	Succeeds.	Survives, no contact with Goldeneye.
From Russia with Love	Rosa Klebb	Kill Bond and obtain the Lektor.	Bond survives and gets the Lektor to MI6.	Shot in the chest by Tatiana Romanova .
	Red Grant			Bond shoots him with a Wright Magnum. OCTOPUS is believed to have fallen apart afterwards.
Quantum of Solace	Dominic Greene	Stage a coup d'état in Bolivia , to gain control of a piece of land rich in resources.	Camille kills General Medrano (Greene's associate who'll execute the plan), and Bill Tanner, using some hacking, bankrupts Greene, making all of his efforts for naught.	Killed in the gunfight by Bond.
GoldenEye 007 (2010 Remake)	Alec Trevelyan	Use Goldeneye to rob and destroy London.	Bond destroys Goldeneye's controls.	Falls to his death after Bond shoots him.
Blood Stone	Stefan Pomerov	Weaponise an antidote for smallpox and anthrax then release it upon the world.	Bond blows up his factory then stops his plane from releasing the toxin.	Sucked out of his plane after Bond shoots the door open.
	Rak	Aid in the kidnaping of scientists and sell their research.	Killed by Bond.	Shot by Bond, causing him to fire a rocket at the plane he's standing on, causing it to explode with him on it.
	Nicole Hunter	Organised the kidnaping of scientists.	Bond discovers her connection with the kidnaping plot.	Shot by an unmanned drone controlled by her 'Boss'.

007: Legends	Auric Goldfinger	Irradiate the gold supply of Fort Knox with a bomb.	Bomb disabled	Sucked out of plane window.
	Ernst Stavro Blofeld	Blackmail the UN with the threat of a deadly virus that will wipe out all livestock and cereals.	Base destroyed by Bond.	Thrown out of cable car by Bond, presumed dead.
	Franz Sanchez	Smuggle drugs.	Shipment attacked by Bond.	Set on fire by Bond, burned to death.
	Gustav Graves	Invade South Korea using the Icarus.	Icarus disabled.	Sucked into plane engine.
	Hugo Drax	Kill the entire human race and rebuild in outer space.	Space station destroyed by Bond.	Sucked out of airlock and suffocated.
	Patrice	Kill MI6 agents in Istanbul, and assassinate a man in Shanghai.	Succeeds, but is killed by Bond.	Dropped off of a skyscraper by Bond.

See also

- List of James Bond henchmen
- James Bond

References